Who is it for?

Anyone working with, or supporting those who work with, adults or children who may be impacted by self-neglect and/or hoarding

The NSAB self-neglect and hoarding (SNH) subgroup invite you to an informative and interactive event, with a focus on practical learning from SAR Andrew, plus a chance to share your expertise and help shape our multi-agency SNH practitioner guide.

This event is being held in the national Safeguarding Adults Week, so, come and join us to explore safeguarding and best practice when supporting adults who may self-neglect and/or hoard.

There will be:

- An overview of the learning from SAR Andrew, presented by the review author, Dr David Orr, with a focus on strengths-based practice in direct work
- Small group discussion on multi-agency working and how different roles bring valuable perspective
- An opportunity to focus on section 14 of our current practitioner guide, for you to directly input into an improved 2026 version
- A reminder of the help / collaboration hubs across the county, and how they enable partners to work together, share information, and support early intervention / prevention
