DO ONE THING to tackle Modern Slavery in your community
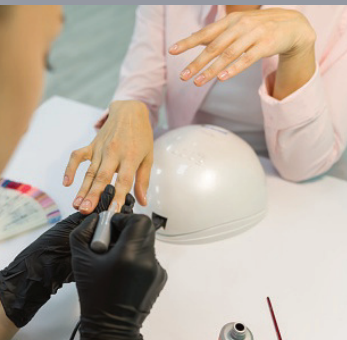

In 2022 the UK Home Office reported 21,518 victims of reported Modern Slavery - it is estimated the figures are closer to 100,000.

269 victims were identified in Norfolk.

(Norfolk Constabulary, July 2022 to June 2023)

What if you could save someone's life, change their future for the better and look out for people in your community?

Here's how you can DO ONE THING...

- Learn to spot the signs of Modern Slavery and report
- Sign up for our newsletter for the latest data and updates in Norfolk
- Sign up for our training packages
- Join our Network as a partner and take part in our regular strategy meetings

NORFOLK ANTI-SLAVERY NETWORK

The Norfolk Anti-Slavery Network brings together organisations from across the county to help people escape Modern Slavery and bring perpetrators to justice.

Spotting the signs

Knowing how to spot the signs and report Modern Slavery and human trafficking is essential to tackling exploitation in Norfolk. Someone in slavery might:

- Appear to be under the control of someone else
- Reluctant to interact with others, such as lack of eye contact
- Appear frightened or withdrawn
- Show signs of physical or psychological abuse
- Have someone with them at all times/not allowed to speak
- Work excessively long hours
- Working with predominantly cash transactions
- Have frequent/many different visitors
- Fear of authorities
- No travel or identity documents that would allow them to travel
- Limited opportunities to move freely
- Few personal possessions
- Wear the same clothes day-in day-out

Spot it, report it

If you have concerns that someone is being exploited:

Call 08000 121 700 (national 24-hour helpline)

Report online at www.modernslaveryhelpline.org/report - a free confidential helpline with access to translation services for over 200 languages.

In an emergency, call 999 - this number covers emergency police, fire and healthcare. If you need advice or support and it is not an emergency, call 101.

NORFOLK ANTI-SLAVERY NETWORK